

Alana Ticchi and Daisy Eales

We're a power gal combo with a love for tequila and red lipstick. We want to be your next activities directors because we have a passion for making events as lit as possible. We understand how overwhelming the law school can be sometimes and are committed to getting you away from the books whenever we can for some wholesome (and not so wholesome) fun. While we love to study just as much as the average MLS student, we're also firm believers in that work life balance. So if you also believe in that work hard/play hard motto, vote for us and we'll do our best to help you play your hardest.

Our goal is to make the events at 185 Pelham the envy of everyone else at unimelb. So if you want an aesthetic law ball like the gram has never seen before, a law camp with shots, beer and BBQ's at the beach, more pubs to crawl through, more yoga to zen to, more dances to help release the stress and more chances to get lit for ALL year levels (while still getting educated), we're your girls!

We are also both incredibly sociable and approachable people who are always keen for a chat about events you want to see happen at the law school - or even just to have a giggle and destress from study.
